33rd Annual Bug Fair at NHMLA

The Natural History Museum of Los Angeles County invites artists to participate in the 33rd Annual Bug Fair. Bug Fair is a two-day program that aims to provide a unique experience for Museum visitors through a variety of bug related activities, bug exhibitors, performances, and interactive shows. The program gives guests the chance to talk to entomologists and other related experts in person, and aims to bring awareness of insects and celebration of the insect world, specifically the insects of Los Angeles.
