

Storm Drain Walk

How does our trash end up in the real-life Bikini Bottom?

Storm drains. When it rains, everything on the street gets washed down the drains and heads straight to ocean habitats! How do you think the pollution affects ocean animals? In this activity, we are going to locate the storm drains in your community!

WHAT YOU'LL NEED

- Ocean Journal
- Pen
- Sidewalk chalk

Go on a walk around your neighborhood. In your journal, tally how many storm drains, downspouts and other places that water comes out of!

Many places have started painting storm drains to show people where the water goes. Are the drains in your neighborhood painted? If not, use your sidewalk chalk to show your neighbors that the storm drains lead straight to the ocean!
