Biographical Note:

Sam Behrendt was a collector of historical documents. He was a successful insurance salesman in Los Angeles in the teens and twenties. As early as 1924 he operated the Behrendt-Levy Company, which underwrote about 75% of the movie industry's insurance. He was a second-generation Angeleno, as his father was a German-born Los Angeles pioneer of 1852, Caspare Behrendt.

Scope and Content Note:

A collection of historical papers, primarily of legal documents, forms, pamphlets, booklets and serial publications relating to Southern California and the United States. The dates range from ca. 1538 – 1939, with its bulk dates between 1850 – 1920.

There are two original letters by Spanish Franciscan missionaries: one by Junipero Serra (1713-1784) and the other by Fermin Francisco De Lasuen (1736-1803); documents from the Californio ranching era including those by Pio Pico and Bernardo Yorba. There are publications pertaining to places and events in Los Angeles and San Francisco, such as commemorative souvenirs and telephone directories. There are ephemeral items relating to the Civil War Confederacy and the Ku Klux Klan. There is a small number of autographs for prominent people, and one faded bill of sale for six slaves from New Orleans. Also are legal documents, both blank forms and ones filled in, such as real estate deeds, a bankruptcy proceeding, liquor licenses, and shipping bills of lading originating from United States and foreign locales.

There are items on the early motion picture industry including ephemera for the opening of Universal Studios and publications by the film company, Selig Polyscope.

Boxes 9 and 10 along with one oversize folder were processed separately. They were found after the collection was arranged, therefore these items are out of series order and should be reviewed to determine if useful items abound. Notable are lithographs depicting battles in the U.S. War with Mexico by William H. Meyers in which plates were published in Naval Sketches of the War in California; Reproducing Twenty-Eight Drawings Made in 1846-47, by William H. Meyers, Dudley Wright Knox, Franklin D. Roosevelt, 1939, New York, Random House.

Most of the maps collected by Behrendt have been integrated into the General Map Collection (GC-1310). Photographic items have been separated into the Photo Collection (P-10) and the Portrait Collection (P-78).
